DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371© of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) do not apply to the examination of this application as the application being examined was not (1) filed on or after November 29, 2000, or (2) voluntarily published under 35 U.S.C. 122(b). Therefore, this application is examined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1, 13 and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Whitfield, Jr. (US 6419421).

Whitfield, Jr. discloses an underground retention apparatus ((11), see Fig. 7) comprising in combination perimeter support means (2) for providing structural support; liner means (3) secured to the perimeter support means for holding a quantity of run off water; means (13) for draining run off water onto the liner; means for draining the run off water from the liner (14); and roof means (5) disposed on the perimeter support means for covering the liner and for providing structural support for appropriate usage of the roof means.

(Re claim 13), the liner means includes an upper side wall portion (this is considered as a top portion of side plate (3)), a lower side wall portion (this is considered as a middle portion of side plate (3)), and a bottom portion (this is considered as the bottom portion of side plate (3)).

(Re claim 16), the liner is made of plastic (see abstract).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. Claims 1, 2, 13-15, 17-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jordan et al. (US 3950252).

Jordan et al. discloses an underground retention apparatus (20) comprising in combination perimeter support means (90,92) for providing structural support; liner means (24, 27-30) secured to the perimeter support means for holding a quantity of run off waste water; means (63) for draining run off waste water onto the liner; means for draining the filtered water from the liner

Art Unit: 3673

(83); and roof means (94) disposed on the perimeter support means for covering the liner and for providing structural support for appropriate usage of the roof means.

(Re claims 2, 18), the perimeter support means comprises a retaining wall.

(Re claims 13-15), Jordan et al. discloses that the upper side wall portion is disposed at a relatively shallow angle and that the lower side wall portion is disposed at a relatively steep angle (see Fig. 2).

(Re claim 17), the liner is made of cementitious material (see col. 2 line 1)

(Re claim 19), the liner means is secured to the vertically disposed retaining wall.

(Re claim 20), the retaining wall is considered to be relatively short.

(Re claim 21), the retaining wall is considered to be relatively long.

(Re claim 22), the perimeter support means includes a stepped retaining wall (90,92).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 17 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Whitfield, Jr..

Whitfield, Jr. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Whitfield, Jr. is silent about the liner being made out of cementitious material. The examiner takes official notice that it is well known to make liner/reservoir out of cementitious material. It would have been considered obvious to one ordinary skill in the art to modify Whitfield, Jr. by making his liner out of cement since such material is known to be used to make liners in order to have liner/reservoir that would not be subject to rust. Furthermore, it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

7. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jordan et al. in view of Bohnhoff (US 6095718).

Jordan et al. discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Jordan et al. lacks having a pump to drain the filtered water from the liner. Bohnhoff teaches having a pump (34) to drain water from a reservoir. It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Jordan et al. to include a pump as taught by Bohnhoff in order to facilitate the transport of the filtered water to a desired location.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 3, 5-12 and 23-26 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3673

9. As allowable subject matter has been indicated, applicant's reply must either comply with all formal requirements or specifically traverse each requirement not complied with. See 37 CFR 1.111(b) and MPEP § 707.07(a).
